WOODSIDE CLUB - LONG ISLAND

THE OFFICIAL MUSEUM OF THE FDNY

ABOUT US

The Fire Museum is housed in a restored 1904 Beaux-Arts triple bay firehouse that was originally constructed for Engine Company No. 30. Retaining its original sliding apparatus doors, brass sliding pole, and iconic winding staircase, the building showcases its historical grandeur. The Museum is dedicated to showcasing and preserving historical artifacts of the FDNY, boasting one of the world's most extensive collections of firefighting memorabilia. Through two floors of permanent and rotating exhibits, visitors can explore New York City's vibrant firefighting history, spanning from the bucket brigades of New Amsterdam and the hand- pumpers of the volunteer era to the era of horse- drawn steam engines and modern high-tech fire boats and rescue equipment.

OUR MISSION

The mission of the New York City Fire Museum is to collect, preserve and present the history and cultural heritage of the fire service of New York and to provide fire prevention and safety education to the public, especially children.

Preserve.
Educate.
Celebrate!

WELCOME TO OUR 6TH ANNUAL GOLF OUTING FUNDRAISER AT THE WOODSIDE CLUB!

Welcome, and thank you for joining us for our 6th Annual Golf Outing.

This is a day we look forward to every year. There is something special about gathering in a setting like this, enjoying a round of golf with good company, all while supporting a cause that means a great deal to so many of us: the New York City Fire Museum and its mission to preserve, educate, and celebrate the history and cultural heritage of the fire service of New York. The Museum remains committed to providing fire prevention and safety education to the public, with a particular focus on children.

Your generosity makes that work possible. The contributions raised today help protect an extraordinary collection of artifacts that tell a story found nowhere else: the remarkable history of firefighting in New York City. Since 1985, the Museum has called home the historic Engine Company 30 firehouse at 278 Spring Street. Completed in 1904 in the Beaux Arts style, this building has housed more companies, both permanently and temporarily, than any other facility in the Fire Department of the City of New York.

It is also home to the first permanent memorial dedicated to the 343 FDNY members who made the ultimate sacrifice on September 11, 2001, a tribute that reflects every chapter of the FDNY's distinguished history of protecting and serving our city.

Congratulations to our honoree, Commissioner Salvatore J. Cassano, whose decades of service and lasting contributions to the FDNY embody the pride and professionalism the New York City Fire Museum, the official Museum of the FDNY, exists to celebrate.

On behalf of the entire Museum, thank you for being here today and thank you for your continued support.

Enjoy the day!

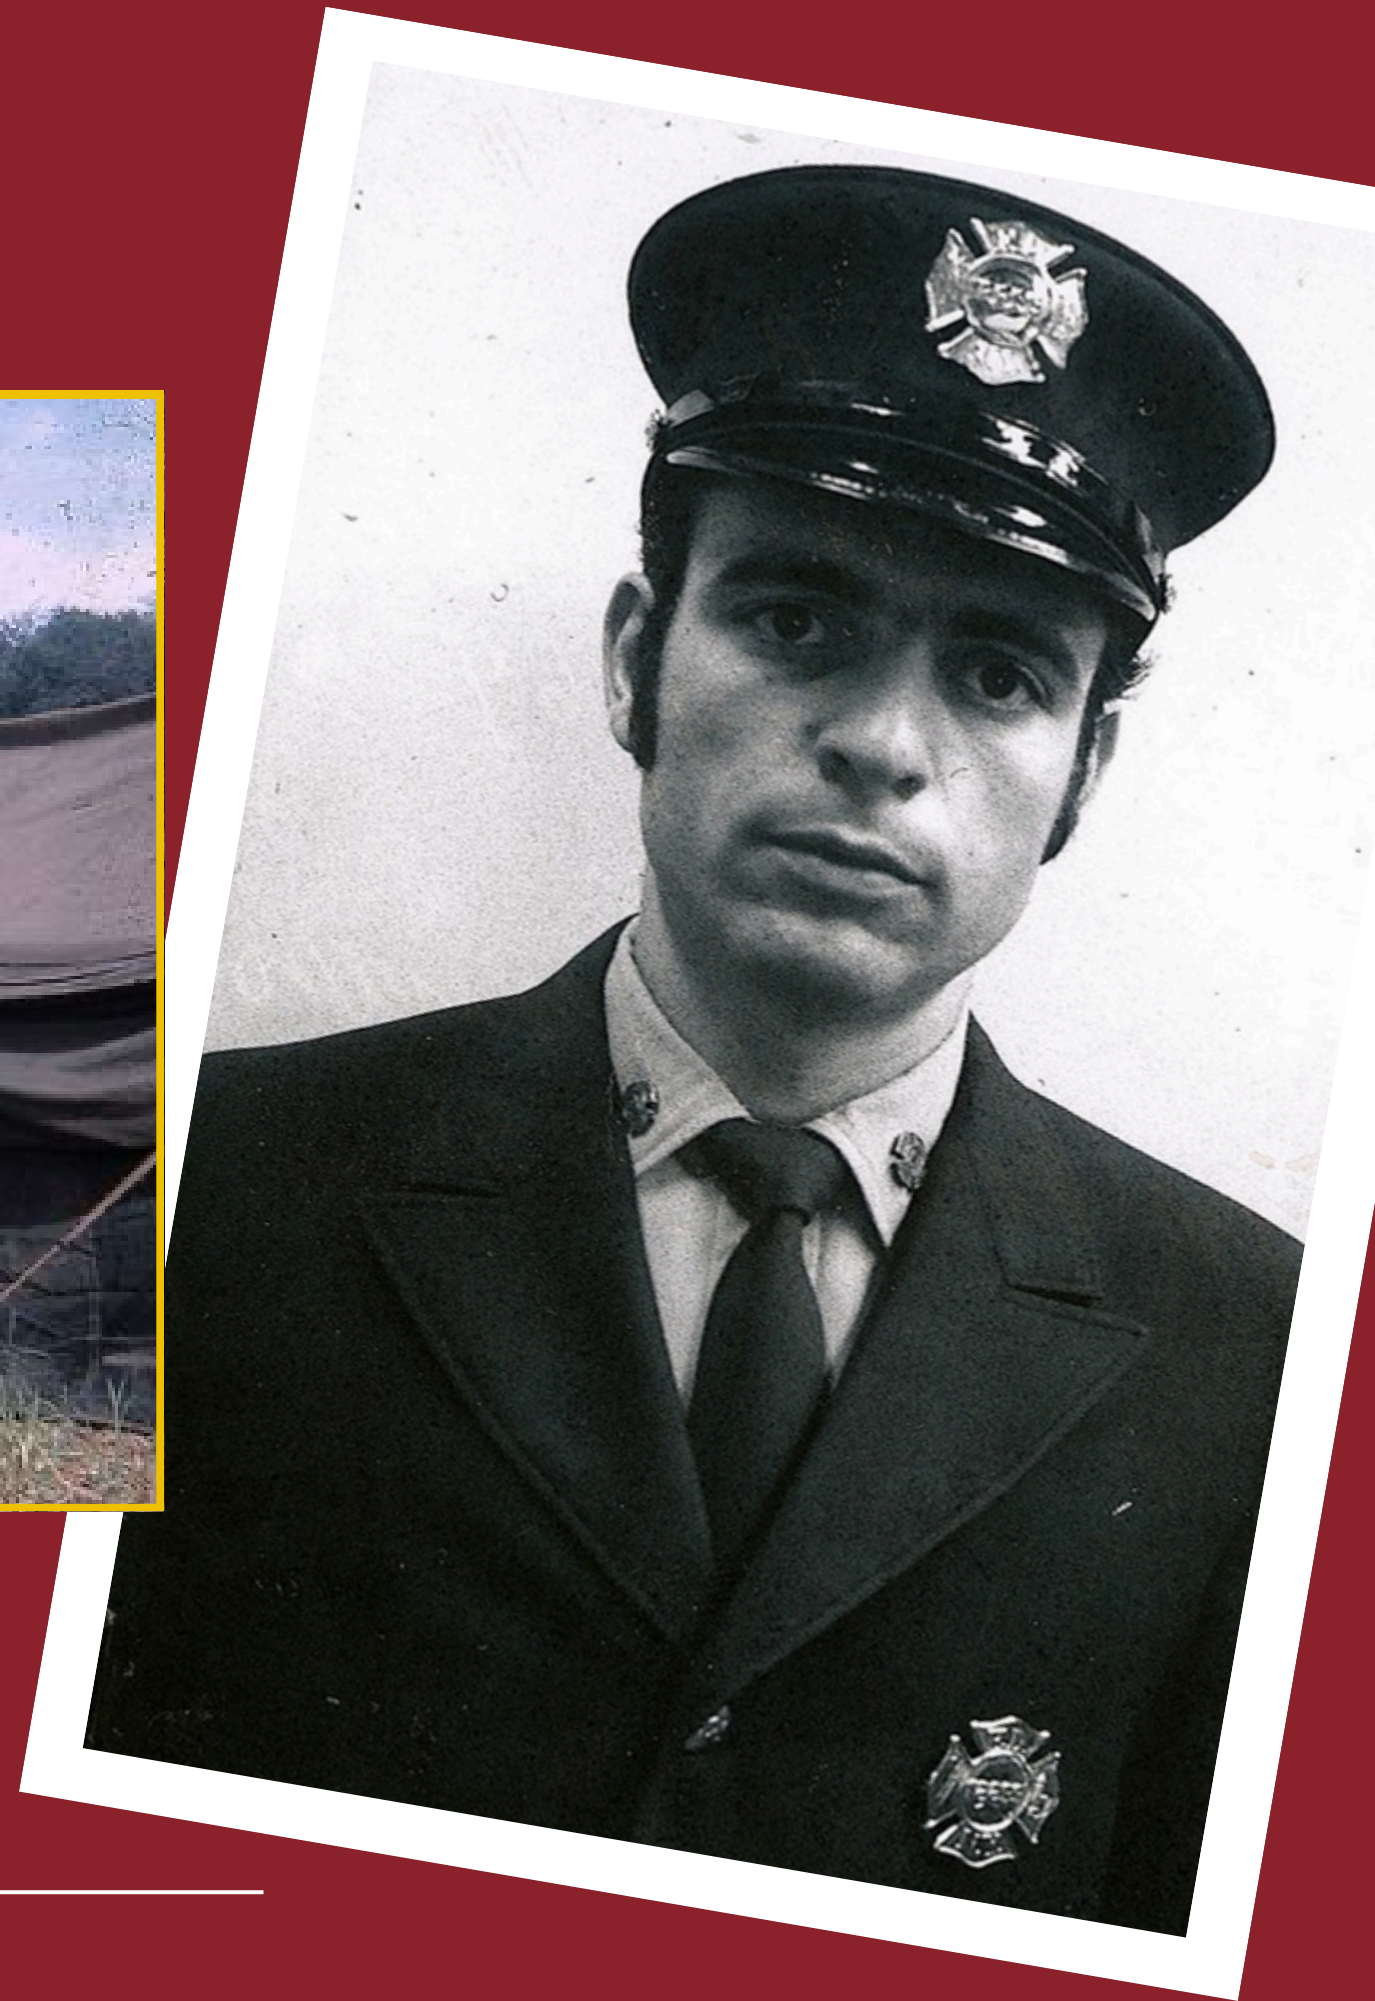

SALVATORE J. CASSANO

32ND COMMISSIONER OF THE FDNY

This year, we are deeply honored to recognize Commissioner Salvatore J. Cassano, a man whose life and career embody the very values this Museum was built to preserve. A Staten Island native, Commissioner Cassano joined the FDNY in 1969 and rose through every uniformed rank over 44 years of dedicated service. On September 12, 2001, he was appointed Chief of Operations to begin the monumental task of rebuilding a department that had just lost 343 of its own. Under his leadership, more than 6,800 new firefighters were hired and the FDNY emerged stronger, better trained, and more prepared than ever before.

Commissioner Cassano has been a steadfast friend to the New York City Fire Museum for many years. Honoring him at this outing is a reflection of the deep and enduring bond between this institution and the men and women of the FDNY. That relationship is at the heart of everything we do, and it is why your participation in this event means so much to us.
